The AAHMI Forum - What's Hip Hop Got To Do With It? - will focus on youth involved with the Hip Hop culture to mobilize them to inform and educate their peers about making healthy choices and encourage youth to establish healthy relationships that may lead to healthy marriages and strengthen African American families and communities. Presenters will include members of the Hip Hop recording industry as well as youth, service providers and Hip Hop culture experts. Compelling, upbeat and relevant music, theatrical productions, workshops and panel presentations will be incorporated to achieve the conference's mission.
